

U.S. MARKET ENTRY & EXPANSION SOLUTIONS

While the U.S. offers the world's largest market under one flag, with a common language, a single currency, and a reliable legal system, companies expanding in the U.S. often underestimate the complexity of this vast and ultra-competitive market.

The United States of America is in fact, a federation of 50 different legal and tax systems, spread over 4 time zones, with extreme ranges of climates and population densities, and a great diversity of cultures and purchasing power.

To minimize risk and costly set-backs of a failed expansion in the U.S., Altix helps international industrial companies develop and implement winning market entry and expansion strategies.

Altix' seasoned, multi-lingual, and highly connected industry executives can help you build a competitive advantage by establishing a brand awareness, developing an in-market supply chain, and reducing risks of market volatility.
